The Company was using multiple disparate tools and solutions that were not integrated to manage its daily operations and were costly too. They found it challenging to accurately enter customer details in every app and keep them updated. They realized that they needed a cloud-based solution that was naturally integrated and that would provide solutions to manage all business functions.

THE SOLUTION:

The company reviewed numerous solutions and found that the Zoho One suite had a considerable advantage in terms of seamless integration between all the apps needed for their sales, finance, client support, and staff management processes.
